d. Incinerators in the Headquarters Building

As a follow-up to the study prepared for LSD/OL on disposal of classified waste at the Headquarters building, a visit was made to the State Department to examine its method for disposing of classified waste. A memorandum for the record was prepared for LSD which described problems the State Department has had in the past with its incineration system, and plans now in being for solving these problems. A description of the system for destroying classified waste used by the Department of Defense was obtained from the State Department security officers and included in the memorandum for the record.
